PUT OUT THE FLAGS

One Arlington father has hit on an appropriate way to celebrate his son's return from the war. The young man came home one night; the next morning the U. S. flag waved from the porch of the family home.

What more patriotic and effective way could be devised of expressing his own joy and of spreading the glad news. The neighbors see the flag, wonder why it is hung out, straightway conclude, "Billy must be home", and hurry over to greet him.

Let us all hang out flags when our boys come home. And may all our streets be gay with waving flags.

A FINE IDEA

The organization of Town Meeting members of Precincts 11 and 13 into an association is an idea that might well be adopted by Town Meeting members in other parts of the town. There are so many matters that might be profitably discussed at such meetings.

Before town elections, for instance, these precinct representatives might make certain that the ballot will have on it at least as many names of candidates for Town Meeting members as each precinct is supposed to have. Before Town Meetings there might well be discussions of the various articles in the Warrant. Such discussions would probably result in shorter Town Meeting sessions and in more intelligent action on town business.

The meetings would be of still greater value if residents of the precincts were invited to attend and to present their ideas on town business. This would make it possible for the members to represent their constituents on the Town Meeting floor.

Indeed, that is what the Town Meeting is supposed to be—representative of the citizens of the town.

IN 1876

70 Years Ago This Week

Our storms this winter are like the speeches of some town meeting orators—light and mostly wind.

Fairy Grotto.—Last Tuesday evening a company of Arlington's young folks, under the direction of Mr. S. P. Prentiss, their musical instructor, presented "The Fairy Grotto" in the Town Hall. Miss Eugenia Eaton sustained the role of the fairy queen and her fairy subjects were Georgia Frost, Nettie Wells, Hattie Swan, Addie Proctor, Nellie Robbins and Marie Teel.

No. 4.—Wednesday evening Hiram Lodge gave its fourth entertainment of the season in the lodge room. Part first consisted of a contest and the quartette engaged were Mrs. G. W. Beardley, soprano; Miss Ella Cleveland, contralto, Mr. Percy J. J. Cooper, tenor, and Mr. W. H. Hunt, basso and humorist. Miss Emma Parker filled the position of accompanist.

The well known Arlington House on Arlington Avenue was sold at auction last Saturday to Charles S. Jacobs, Jr., the present occupant, for $20,000.

Mr. George B. C. Rugg's new position is news editor on the new Daily Times at Watertown.

The first "Gentlemen's Night," tendered by the Women's Club of Arlington took place in Town Hall last evening, January 30th.

In the hurry to prepare the report of the Calico Party for last week's paper, we neglected to mention the floor managers. They were Messrs. Wm. H. Homer, Robert Bacon, Wm. T. Foster, Jr., and Lindsay K. Foster. Their costumes were novel and unique, consisting of gingham plaid "dress" coats and white duck trousers.

Cards have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Allen for an at home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell P. Yerrinton and Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Leeds at their home on Jason street Wednesday, February 5th, '96.

The ice on the reservoir is twelve inches thick but the surface is too rough for skating.

IN 1921

25 Years Ago This Week

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Hummel of Baltimore, Maryland, announced the marriage of their daughter, Alice Bowdoin, to Mr. Shatswell Ober of Arlington Heights on Saturday, January 22.

The Internos Club met on Thursday at the home of Mrs. William Hauser. The prizes were awarded as follows: Mrs. George Curry, first; Mrs. Noah Rogers, second; Mrs. Frank Baumelster, third; Mrs. Russell Richards, consolation.

Mrs. James H. Shedd was hostess at a luncheon Monday noon, when a formal announcement was made of the engagement of her daughter, Miss H. Marguerite Shedd, to Mr. Theodore Perry Bell.

In making up the class year book at the Mass. Agricultural College at Amherst, the juniors conferred honors on Herbert Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis J. Collins of 12 Schouler court. Collins was honored as being the best athlete in the college.

Would Study Town
Manager Government

84 State Street

Boston, Mass.

January 28, 1946

I read with interest your editorial in the January 17th issue of the Advocate, which was entitled "Keep Them Off the El". It was a sizzler, all right, but what has ever been done to remedy this situation and bring better transportation service to Arlington?

Is there such an organization in town as the Chamber of Commerce, Better Business Bureau or Citizens' Association? If so, why do they not contact similar organizations in Lexington and Bedford and go after the Boston & Maine Railroad, with a view of having about five more trains daily, put on? Time was when one never had to consult a timetable for a train over the Lexington Branch. Just go to the station and in a short time a train would appear. Today the population of these towns is twice what it was then. A ride from Boston to Arlington by train is a REAL pleasure, lasting barely fifteen minutes in striking contrast to a Hollywood Mob Scene that is staged every night at Harvard and Lechmere Squares, by the El.

Accordingly, together with other responsible citizens, I am filing an article in the "Town Warrant" calling for the appointment of a committee to study the question of a Town Manager and to have such committee make a report not later than the Annual Town Meeting of 1947.

Very truly yours,

LAWRENCE E. CORCORAN.

Precinct 11 and 13 Members Organize

The second meeting of the newly-formed Eleven and Thirteen Associates, an organization of Town Meeting Members of Precincts 11 and 13, was held at the Peirce School Monday evening of last week with a large attendance. Reports of various committees and officers were received and a thorough discussion of a number of the matters which are expected to come before the next annual them.

This group was formally organized October 15, 1945, its purpose being to study and consider the town warrant and any other matters of interest to the town.

The officers of the organization are, Roger L. Warner, president; Robert E. Boyd, vice-president; Charles Harrington, secretary, and Ernest L. Cooper, treasurer.

BUDGET COMMITTEE ISSUES PROGRAM OF CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

town on its face appears to be relatively good. Its debt has been reduced to $66,000 and it now has on hand in the form of bonds or surplus an amount of approximately $750,000. Of this $250,000 is required as a permanent reserve, the smallest amount which safely permits since it is equal to only ten percent of the present increased annual operating expense of the town. But this apparently favorable condition is due to the fact that the expenditures of the welfare agencies were at a minimum, substantially no capital expenditures were made during the war, and there were unexpected increases in receipts from the State.

"On the other hand the physical condition of the town is only fair; its current expenses relatively high, and its needs for the future great. From this point of view the following facts should be noted.

"The annual expense for wages and salaries has increased $240,000 during the war years, wholly due to increased payments and in spite of a diminished number of employees. This accounts for an addition of $4 on the tax rate.

"Extensive repairs are needed both on the streets and on the public buildings, since much necessary work could not be done during the war.

"No building of new streets has been done during the war and Arlington still has 33 miles of unpaved and unaccepted streets which will cost several millions to pave and of which the town must ultimately pay forty percent of the cost. It is to be noted that the cost of building streets has increased sixty percent over prewar W.P.A. days.

"Large expenditures will be necessary for the school buildings, to replace obsolescence, to provide for new buildings and further accommodations or additions to the existing buildings.

"Considerable areas have been surfacing of land. Traffic congestion, says the report, is acute and requires expensive remedial action. "New through streets may be required at town expense." After 1951 the committee foresees an appropriation of $100,000.

This year, the committee would start laying underground appropriation of $175,000 for the cable for the fire and police signal system, appropriating $19,000 for vocational addition to the High School.

playground appropriations this year would be $7,000 for Florence Avenue, $7,000 for North at Junior High West, $9,600 for equipment, which includes $3,000 for a hockey rink at the reservoir.

This year only $125,000 is advised for street construction, to be followed by appropriations of $200,000 each year through 1951. A relatively modest amount in view of the needs of the town is suggested, says the report, partly because the 60% increase in expense over pre-war days is likely to deter many house owners from asking for paving. It is urged that in the future those seeking to develop land be required to guarantee the pavement of all roads within the development before completing.

It is in 1949 that an appropriation of $54,000 for an East Arlington Branch library is advised.
